Thanksgiving Here Day Of Homecoming

City Observes Holiday With Praise Services And Family Parties

Thanksgiving Day was homecoming time in Sierra Madre and was the occasion for devout services in the churches of all denominations. Families here united in giving thanks for the many real blessings which make up the Nation's basic prosperity.

Branches of red berries and clusters of gold and multi-colored fruits and autumn leaves decorated the Church of the Ascension yesterday during the two holiday services. Holy Communion was held at 7:30 in the morning, with Dean Arnold G. Bode giving a sermon on Thanksgiving. Later, at 9 o'clock, similar services were held, and a full church choir sang hymns of the Pilgrims.

Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard conducted Thanksgiving services at the Congregational Church at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, choosing as his sermon topic, "Thanksgiving in These Times." At Bethany Church Rev. Stewart R. Sheriff gave a sermon on the general topic of Thanksgiving, and from 10 to 11 o'clock services and musical numbers were heard.

At St. Rita's Shrine Mass was conducted by Rev. Father Hyacinth Clarey at 7 a.m. and again at 8:15 o'clock, with choir selections and musical numbers being presented at the latter time.

To those families whose lot this Thanksgiving was less fortunate than most, the Red Cross and Legion Auxiliary distributed baskets of food, cranberry sauce, jellies, fruits and other dainties. Local members of the Monrovia Elk's Lodge, headed by Fred Klinker and John Froelich, helped in the distribution of 150 baskets to the Sierra Madre-Monrovia district. The members of the Volunteer Firemen also took time out from their Christmas charity duties to see that a dozen or so homes were gladdened by steaming Thanksgiving dinners, which otherwise they would not have enjoyed.

Cecil Hall, of the U.S.S. Utah, arrived home on Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with his wife and baby, of East Laurel avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith, of 609 West Central avenue, entertained with a family dinner party on Thanksgiving Day. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Smith and family and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Williams, of Glendale; Ben Smith, who came home from the University of Redlands, and his college friend, Emmett Oliver.

Merrill Jensen arrived home on Wednesday from the University of Redlands to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with his family. C. Arthur Merrill, of Bakersfield, also came to spend the holidays with his sister, Mrs. R. S. Jensen, and family, of 561 West Grand View avenue.

Miss Dorothea Cox, who has been attending the University of California at Los Angeles, is home for the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cox, of 711 Alta Vista Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Hill, of South Lima street, entertained with a dinner party on Thanksgiving Day. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ashmore and (Continued on Page Six)

POSTOFFICE TELLS RULES TO MAKE SURE XMAS PARCELS REACH THEIR DESTINATION

MERRY CHRISTMAS always sounds an ironic note to mail carriers and other postal employees to whom holiday season only means much additional work. However, everyone using the mails to send presents and greeting cards can secure better service for himself as well as immeasurably lighten the load of postal workers if he follows the few simple instructions issued this week by Postmistress Jessica Wright, of the Sierra Madre office.

One of the chief sins committed by unthinking persons is the mailing of cards in dark colored envelopes. Green, blue or red envelopes should be avoided, as ink is scarcely visible on such colors and service is consequently delayed. All parcels should be securely wrapped to prevent rattling of contents, and full address and return address

Sierra Madre Has Two Candidates For Queen Of Rose Fete

Another Sierra Madre girl was added to the list of aspiring "Rose Queens" this year as Treva Scott, last year's reigning favorite, reviewed the 27 Pasadena Junior College candidates for the 1935 queenship.

Miss Shirley Chamberlain, pretty brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Chamberlain of 565 West Montecito avenue, joined Miss Sadie Sellers in candidacy for the year's honor most coveted by southland misses. Within a week or ten days the judging committee will make its choice for queen, and for the six maids of honor. Rose Queens are chosen on points of beauty, grace and carriage.

Two Girls Suffer Broken Arms At Grammar School

Norma Sexton, daughter of Mrs. W. L. Hibbs, of 249 Ramona avenue, broke her left arm near the shoulder last Wednesday, when she fell from the patio at the Sierra Madre Grammar School. Her arm was so badly fractured that an operation had to be performed on Saturday morning at the Pasadena Hospital in order to set it. Doctors promise her that she will be able to return to her home this week.

Dorothy Hogan, of South Hermosa avenue, broke her right arm near the wrist last week in a fall, while playing at the local grammar school.

Professional And Business Women Here Organize Club

A group of 25 business and professional women met at the home of Miss Cecil Price, 279 East Grand View avenue, on Tuesday evening for the purpose of organizing a Business and Professional Women's Club in Sierra Madre. Miss Sue Brobst, for many years active in business and professional women's clubs, explained the purposes and possibilities of such clubs. She presented a constitution and by-laws, which conform to the National federation requirements. The constitution was adopted, the by-laws considered in detail.

The group adjourned to meet again in two weeks to complete the organization of the club. At this time it is expected that Dr. Florence May Morse, a professor at the University of Southern California, and Odessa Davis, of Los Angeles, will meet with the group and others interested to give further information on the scope of activities of business and professional women's clubs.

Bowling Tourney Between Firemen And Kiwanis Looms

With Kiwanis bowler Waverly Pratt out of the running, by his own declaration, the Kiwanians this week were doubtful of their chances against the Firemen's team in a contemplated match.

According to Jim Heasley, one of the players undecided whether to support the Kiwanis Club or the Firemen, "With such bowlers as Andy Liscomb, Gordon McMillan, Louie Karger, and Marion Hayes on the Firemen's team, the Kiwanians will need several weeks more of good stiff practice before they can give the smoke-eaters a workout."

Which sounds like treason, or something, except that Heasley is both a fireman and a Kiwanian.

Progress Of Art League To Be Shown

Reception To Be Held As Students Work Goes On Exhibition

The Sierra Madre Municipal Art League's second semi-annual exhibition will be opened with a public reception to be held in the Little Gallery of the City Hall at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, December 5.

An out of the ordinary display of the student's work has been arranged by Henry Ivins Hawxhurst, founder and instructor of the League. The work of each student will be grouped individually, to show his advancement during the past year. A large number of finely executed charcoal drawings, which illustrate the careful attention that has been given to tone values, are among the most interesting studies in the exhibit.

"In gradually bringing the students up to where they will be capable of handling color and life work, I have emphasized the importance of basic structure, and of the comparative tonal values of various colors," Mr. Hawxhurst explains in commenting on the League's exhibition.

"During its year and a half of dispensing the instruction of art 'as free as air,' the Municipal Art League has gained widespread approval," Mr. Hawxhurst said, "and unanimous local approval. From present prospects the attendance at the reception should set an outstanding record."

Student members who will serve on the reception committee include Mesdames Lucille Vanier, Louella Harriman, Leslie B. Wynne, Jr., Glenna Evans, Laura Triggs; Miss Florence Gilmore and Josephine Whorral; and Messrs. H. W. Burke, Byard Wynne, Frank Rumball and Gilmore.

The following patrons and patronesses also will act as hosts for the occasion: Messrs. Alfred Carey, Henry Isaacs, J. H. Roberts, Irving Ward, Gale Williams, George Rikeman, Rudolph Hartman, Frank Spencer, Vernon Morse, C. E. Sonner, W. C. Dalzell, Leslie Bernard Wynne, Jr., W. J. Colligan, James A. Dewey, Jr., Harvey Steinberger, R. L. Fitzwilliams, Howard Lieben, L. R. Goshorn, W. J. Lawless, Al S. Myers, Warren O. Preston, William Lees, Waverly E. Pratt, Lester K. Layton, Dean and Mrs. Arnold G. Bode, Mayor and Mrs. H. Clay Reavis, Prof. and Mrs. Oskar Seiling, Colonel and Mrs. H. B. Hersey, Dr. L. L. Krebs, Miss Thomasella Graham, Mrs. Beatrice Ward Kelterborn, Miss Edna Green and Mrs. May M. Olds.

The public is cordially invited to be present at the reception.

Deer With Broken Leg Found Helpless In Bailey Canyon

Lying helplessly on her side, too weak from starvation and exhaustion to rise, a deer was found in Bailey Canyon Saturday by George Thompson, of 313 North Lima street. The animal's fore leg was broken, the injury being apparently a week or more old.

Ranger Roger Armstrong, who was notified, decided that the doe was too far gone to save, and shot her. She was buried in the canyon.

Physical Culture Club Is Organized

The Sierra Madre Ladies' Physical Culture Club was organized on Monday evening at the home of Mme. de Beaulieu, 125 East Mira Monte avenue. The club will meet every Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock and every Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Congregational Church. Information may be secured by calling 86.

Judge Morton Wins By Majority Of 399

Complete official returns of the November 6 election tabulated this week show the reelection of Judge J. Russell Morton.

Judge J. Russell Morton

ton of Pasadena township Justice court by a majority of 399 votes over his opponent, Roland Maxwell. He polled 27,076 votes as against 26,661 for Maxwell. There was little doubt about Morton's victory but the result could not be officially announced until 400 absentee voters' ballots were counted on Tuesday.

Completion of the official count increased the majority of Congressman-elect John Steven McGroarty over Congressman William E. Evans. He received 66,356 votes as against 55,518 for Evans.

Assemblyman Frank G. Martin's vote is officially recorded as 11,482. Mrs. Marion Witherspoon, his Democratic opponent received 5886 votes.

Kiwanians Will Repeat Their Xmas Treat For Kiddies

Continuing their informal luncheon program policy, Kiwanians Tuesday noon heard four brief biographical sketches having to do with newer members. Frank Spencer spoke on Victor O. Schmidt, Waverly Pratt sketched the life of George Rikeman, Capt. E. G. Everett was described by Dr. John Woehler, while Clarence Huntsinger described Harry Lang's "life and work."

President William Middough announced that plans for the Kiwanis annual Christmas party for underprivileged children would be completed soon. No speaker will appear on the Christmas program, it is stated.

Covered Wagon Hero Building A Cabin In Santa Anita Canyon

J. Warren Kerrigan, known the country over as the hero of the "Covered Wagon," now spends all of his vacation time in his recently purchased cabin in the Big Santa Anita Canyon, near Fern Lodge.

For the past weeks Mr. Kerrigan has been rebuilding and adding to the cabin, which he purchased from Stacey Judd of Monrovia. Jack Moffatt, packer for Corum's stables here, states that within a couple of weeks the packtrain will have finished the job of hauling cement and hard-wood timbers into the canyon for the cabin's completion.

Council Amends City's Traffic Law

An amendment to the city traffic regulations establishing an all-way stop at Baldwin and Central avenues was passed on first reading by the City Council at its meeting on Wednesday evening.

It was prompted by the accident on the night of the recent election that caused the death of Harold Beidler. The ordinance also permits the police department to establish cross walks on Baldwin avenue between streets and to prohibit the parking of cars within 20 feet of the walks.

Another ordinance passed on first reading provides for the purchase from W. P. Caley of 20 square feet of ground at the Trail store in Canyon Park to permit of the widening and straightening of Sturtevant Drive.

Council upset all precedent by refusing to spot zone the location of the Pepper Tree Inn on Sierra Madre avenue for the operation of a cafe without first referring the matter to the Planning Commission.

Fund Drive Of Red Cross Nearing End

Over 500 Names On Roster So Far And New High Point May Be Reached

With the official date for closing the Red Cross Roll Call so close at hand, the canvassers have been working with redoubled vigor this week. Tuesday Miss Judson, secretary, had a total of 420 paid memberships, with pledges of several more, while in some precincts no reports had been made since Friday.

Miss Judson called attention to the fact that for several years Sierra Madre has stood third on the list of California cities for Red Cross membership in proportion to the population.

"Carmel, in Monterey County, stands first and Mare Island, a government barracks, is second," Miss Judson said, "and as the population of both these places is small and they have the Red Cross spirit well developed, they will be hard to beat, but Sierra Madre is out to climb up a notch this year."

"The results so far are most encouraging and, if everyone who can join will only do so this week, we would show the rest of the State how gallantly our little town stands up to its humanitarian responsibilities through hard times as well as good."

Miss Judson also expressed great appreciation of the generous response to the appeal for supplies for Thanksgiving baskets which was published in last week's NEWS. She said the baskets had brought Thanksgiving cheer to several homes which otherwise would have had none.

The following list of names of those joining the Red Cross includes only those turned in to headquarters up to Saturday night. A supplemental list, giving (Continued on Page Four)

Native Hawaiians To Play For Guests Of Junior Women

"Ramona," whose Hawaiian orchestra will provide music for the dance to be given by the Junior Woman's Club at the Woman's Clubhouse tomorrow (Saturday) night, is coming to Sierra Madre as a special guest of Mrs. Myrna Cant, whom she has known for several years. The orchestra, which is composed of native Hawaiians, has been playing at La Fonda Club in Universal City for some time and has the reputation of being an excellent dance orchestra. "Lei Lani," the native dancer, will give interpretations of several Hawaiian dances. The background will be palms and flowers, giving the proper atmosphere.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Morison Campbell will be patrons and patronesses of the event. Mrs. Robertson was Junior Advisor for several years, and has been succeeded by Mrs. Campbell this year.

The "initiates" who will act as hostesses include Misses Ellen Wolfe, Bee Connor, Barbara Hollingsworth, Sunny Bettett, Frances Olds, Frances Neumann, Marjorie Ashmore, Josephine Hare, and Mrs. Juanita Lannan and Mrs. Myrna Cant. Mrs. Lannan and Mrs. Cant have been in charge of arrangements.

Greater Security For Foothill Area Is McGroarty's Aim

"I'm going to Washington to do a few things, but will try to do them well," Congressman-elect John Steven McGroarty told a group of his friends from this and other cities of this district yesterday.

With a deep seated knowledge of the Southland and its problems, Mr. McGroarty has pledged himself to put his knowledge to practical use in fighting for federal funds for fire and flood protection. At a farewell party given in his honor in Altadena Wednesday evening, he said:

"Like ancient Babylon, Los Angeles is in danger of being buried by the mountains washing down upon the city. This may seem a startling statement. But if anyone will stop to think what would surely happen if forest fires denuded Mt. Lowe and Mt. Wilson of the brush that covers their slopes, it will be seen that this is possible—probable."

"We must have adequate fire protection, and then reforestation, in order to preserve our watersheds and ourselves."

Three Youths Held To Answer In Court For Stealing Gas

Chief of Police Gordon McMillan, and Officer Tex Schoemaker apprehended two Sierra Madre youths Friday night in the act of stealing gasoline from the city tractor on Orange Grove avenue. The third member of the trio, suspected of being guilty of several similar acts in the past few months, was picked up the next day and confessed being one of the culprits.

Names of all three boys, two of whom are 17 years old and one of whom is but 15, are being withheld for the present. They will be held before Judge Samuel Blake, of the Juvenile Court, sometime next week.

School Cost Whittled To Danger Point

Education System Faces Grave Danger Pasadena Superintendent Says

"Free public education is a basic necessity to a Democracy," John Sexson, Superintendent of Pasadena schools, said in a talk on the future of education at the Forum meeting here Tuesday night.

"Right now," the speaker said, "our California schools are in an extremely critical situation, although we have thus far maintained our school system to a greater degree than any other section of the country. But we're down to the last curtain pull possible if we are to preserve our standards of education; we are working with a skeleton organization, our annual costs cut to half of what they were seven years ago."

Emphasizing that the California schools are primarily dependent on the State fixed charges—which allows $60 per elementary pupil and $90 per high school pupil, annually—Superintendent Sexson said that as soon as school responsibility is shifted entirely to individual communities, our system would break down.

"Children," he said, "are not where the wealth is. But we must consider that if we are to make the schools servicable to the Nation we must keep the schools democratic."

In explaining the California situation in its proper relationship to a world situation, the speaker pointed out that in times of economic unrest nations invariably fight for control of the schools, and that we must consider our schools in their proper light, as "laboratories of Democratic government."

"Everyone sending his child to public school must feel safe on the score that the child is being taught Democratic principles, in an institution democratically controlled, financed and managed. If we are to make the schools servicable to the Nation, that must hold true."

"Now is the time for us to ask ourselves several pertinent questions: First, do we believe in education? Is education needed in a Democracy, and if so how much? Also, how much can we afford? If we come to the conclusion that we cannot close the doors of opportunity to our youth if our Democracy is to (Continued on Page Two)

WOMEN SELECT PRETTIEST, NOISIEST, BEST POISED SHES AND SHIEKIEST MALE

American Legion Auxiliary Ballot Confirms Some Ideas Public Holds

As many a Sierra Madrean has suspected for some time, Roy Shetler is the noisiest Legionnaire in town—however, this has his compensation. He is also the "personality kid."

In order to quell any incipient libel suits, the above information must be qualified as the result of a little playful balloting on the part of the Legion Auxiliary at its meeting on Friday night. Other interesting opinions were put on the records, and probably for the first time the Legion men and the Auxiliary ladies fully knew what each thought of the other.

Maybelle Barker and Mrs. Grace Caukin tied for "most popular woman" honors, but Mrs. Caukin also gained a place with Shetler, for her manner of making herself heard. Collin Hill led the men present by five points,

Sprinklers Proposed To Fight Fires

Sierra Madrean Offers Forest Officials Plan To Combat Foothill Blazes

A plan for an extensive sprinkling system over the Angelus National Forest area to combat major blazes, has been presented to officials of the forestry department by W. C. Higdon, of Sierra Madre, with view of establishing the hitherto impracticable theory of fighting forest fires with water.

Mr. Higdon, formerly a lumber man and fire warden in Colorado, expressed the belief that it is economically feasible to make extensive use of water under certain conditions.

"The Arroyo Seco fire of last summer," he said, "could have been extinguished by the first squad of fifteen men who arrived on the scene if a single barrel of water had been available. The cost of water would be high but my plan could be started along the foothills where connections can be made with valley mains. From such locations it could be extended—but at any rate we could protect foothill and valley regions where the property damage and future flood danger have to be reckoned with on such an enormous scale."

Explaining the proposed system, which he has completely diagramed on paper, Mr. Higdon stated, "Reservoirs would be constructed in high country where ever water is available in the wet season. From these reservoirs would run a system of pipe lines, preferably on ridges at the sides of canyons or gulches, approximately a half mile apart."

"Paralleling these lines would be a sprinkler line running a half mile in each direction from the valve gates. At right angles to each valve house another sprinkling line would run a half mile in each direction. Pipe lines running across canyons would be carried on a cable as high as possible, and on the opposite side of the canyon, in line with this sprinkler line, would be another valve gate, also running in four directions, making these lines surround approximately a square mile."

"Pressure should be kept without reduction as long as the pipe is capable of holding the pressure, which would necessitate the sprinkler pipes having inserted nozzles of a size comparable to the pressure at that point. This would equalize pressure all over the lines."

"From a lookout station it would be possible to watch for a fire, and to use only the line necessary for the control of a certain fire area. In case of strong wind, the high line that crossed the canyon could be used to put out a fire burning from the line, as water shooting into the air under high pressure would carry spray for a great distance, and in my opinion, under such conditions, would put out a fire without the necessity of allowing it to burn to the next line. Each line could be regulated by an electrically controlled valve, operating from a lookout, eliminating the danger of sending men into the immediate vicinity of a fire."

was adjudged "most popular." Mrs. Bertha Irvine discovered herself to be "the prettiest woman present," and her spouse was voted "shiekiet of the men." Mrs. Maybelle Barker and Collin Hill were chosen as the "best talkers," while Mrs. Dorothy Shetler and Jim Irvine were "wittiest." Mrs. Caukin and her husband, Ray Caukin, stood side by side as being the most at ease in public, while Minnie Stinman and Collin Hill were the best liked.

"Most pleasant" were Mr. Caukin and Maybelle Barker—"most discreet," Caukin and Mrs. Caukin. No surprise was the choice of Helen Lovejoy as having the "most personality." Beau Brummel award went to Mr. Caukin, while Maybelle Barker was the best dressed woman. The meeting was preceded by an excellent spaghetti dinner, and followed by a blushing silence. Dinner was prepared by Mrs. Blanche Buie, Mrs. Roy Pickett and Mrs. Shetler.

Bethany Society To Elect Officers At Meeting Tuesday

The annual election of officers for Bethany Missionary Society will be held next Tuesday, Fred G. Mitchell, a missionary for 40 years among the Navajo Indians, has been secured as speaker at 11:15 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Ford L. Canfield, of the China Inland Mission, will show her new slides of the Orient, in the afternoon. Miss Peet will lead devotions. Luncheon, in charge of Mrs. Frank B. Butler, will be served at noon. Everyone is cordially invited.

DOUBLE FEATURES AT ARCADIA'S THEATRE

"One Night of Love," starring Grace Moore, will be shown for the last time tonight and Saturday at Gillette's Arcadia Theatre, Arcadia. Billed on the same program is "Desirable," with Jean Muir and George Brent in the leading roles.

You'll howl with laughter at the showing of the "Case of the Howling Dog," with Warren William and Mary Astor, which will be presented at the Arcadia Sunday, Monday and Tuesday with another feature picture, "Student Tour," with Charles Butterworth and Jimmy Durante. A two reel musical comedy, "Gentleman of Polish," is an added attraction for these nights. "Big Hearted Herbert," with Guy Kibbee and Aline MacMahon is rated as one of the funniest pictures of the year. It will be shown beginning Wednesday on the same program with the mirth provoking team, Zasu Pitts and Slim Summerville, in "Their Big Moment."

MONASTERY GROUNDS BEING BEAUTIFIED

The large garden oval in front of the Mater Dolorosa Monastery on Monte Oliva was planted recently with decorative flowers and shrubs, and an artistic pagoda was erected in the enclosed patio. Week by week landscaping work on the grounds goes forward. The reservoir to the rear of the buildings is being drained and cleaned in preparation for winter rains. A great number of perch have been transferred from the reservoir to the patio fish pond until the reservoir has been completely scrubbed.

School Cost Whittled To Danger Point

survive on the basis on which it was built—then we must consider what sacrifices we are willing to make to support the educational system we need," he said.

Mr. Sexton stated that if the proposed $150 per year tuition fee were assessed against Pasadena district high school students—even in such a comparatively rich area—approximately 60 percent of the pupils would be compelled to drop out of school. This would put 5000 children out on the streets.

"What," he asked, "would these young people do then? We are up against a problem of youth, in a society which no longer is able to provide for youth in business and industry. The talent and ability of this youth of the land must be developed to meet American problems, and the public educational system is the best means we have found to meet these needs."

Sounding an optimistic note in closing, Mr. Sexton said that at each crisis in California education, where we had thought we were at an impasse, the problem had somehow been solved. He called attention to the fact that just as the State was compelled to discontinue adult education, the Federal government had responded to nationwide sentiment and had established adult education on a larger scale than ever before had been thought of.

"This," he concluded, "may be the very time, when all of the people are awakening to their responsibility, to send education striding ahead as never before. Benjamin Franklin, in a very gloomy period in Independence Hall, once looked out to the west and saw the sun sinking. He said, 'What appeared to be sunset—appeared, after all, to be sunrise.' There is our cue!"

At the opening of the meeting, Mrs. W. J. Lawless told of the beautiful city planning she saw during her trip around South America recently. She deplored the fact that so many opportunities for artistic boulevards have been neglected in Southern California.

Mrs. A. F. Snell read excerpts from a paper on the educational situation, which presented the startling fact that nearly three million children are being deprived of schooling in the United States at the present time.

"THE GAY DIVORCEE" AT LYRIC THEATRE

With "The Gay Divorcee" ranked as one of the year's greatest screen productions, the Lyric Theatre in Monrovia will feature this film alone for a four-days engagement starting Saturday.

Fred Astaire, dance idol of millions, and his lovely partner, Ginger Rogers, are seen in the leading roles of "The Gay Divorcee," which as a stage production made a smashing hit on two continents. Astaire and Rogers, creators of "The Carioca" in "Flying Down to Rio," dance the "Continental" in "The Gay Divorcee" ... a ball room arrangement which is said to be even more dazzling than "The Carioca."

As a stage presentation, "The Gay Divorcee" ran for six months in London and for 288 performances in New York, and Freddy Astaire, who made this glittering girl spree the stage musical triumph of this decade, plays the same part he did behind the footlights. Song hits and dance routines galore are featured in "The Gay Divorcee," now ten times as gorgeous on the screen. Alice Brady and Edward Everett Horton are in the supporting cast, as well as hundreds of Hollywood's prettiest girls.

Starting Wednesday, the Lyric returns to double-featured programs with the showing of "The Pursuit of Happiness" and "Wednesday's Child." Francis Lederer and Joan Bennett are co-starred in "The Pursuit of Happiness." "Wednesday's Child" was adapted from the stage play of the same name. Edward Arnold and Karen Morley portray the principal adult roles. Friday night only ... free chinaware to every lady.

More Tools Than Toys In Firemen's Santa Claus Shop

Although the public this week started to respond to the Firemen's Plea for Toy Shop working material, department members are still far behind their usual schedule and it appears that many Sierra Madre children will find empty stockings Christmas morning.

Fire Chief W. D. Richards said yesterday that the Toy Shop is fully equipped with lathes and other necessary machinery and tools to repair any kind of toy imaginable, and that his men are eager to do a good job in repairing and painting enough toys to make every needy child in town happy.

"But," he said, "we have more tools than we have toys to repair. It is up to the warm hearted citizens of Sierra Madre to bring us broken, and disused toys of all kinds on which to work. If they fail us—Christmas is going to be just another day to many, many kiddies here."

In the meanwhile plans have been rushed for the Firemen's Christmas dance and card party, and Chief Richards has announced his choice of committee members for the arrangements. The decorating committee are Frank Lovell, Jim Heasley, Gordon McMillan, Robert Newberry, and R. J. Walsworth. Card table arrangements will be cared for by Marion Hayes, Bill Schwartz, Andy Liscomb, Jack Hosford, and J. Milton Steinberger. The punch committee includes George Norris, Louis Karger, Steve Petzel, and Robert Babbitt. Chief Richards and Vernon Udell will be at the door.

In A Social Way

Mrs. R. L. Webster, of 121 East Alegria avenue, entertained on Friday afternoon at a bridge luncheon in honor of Mrs. W. J. Lawless and Miss Emma Jameson, who recently returned from a trip to South America. The Webster home was beautifully decorated with flowers. The dining room was attractive in a color scheme of yellow and blue, while the living room and den were pleasingly carried out in other colorful floral arrangements. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. John C. James and Mrs. Milton Hollingsworth, guest prizes going to Mrs. Lawless and Miss Jameson. Guests included the honor guests, Mrs. Lawless and Miss Jameson; Mrs. Arthur O. Pritchard, Mrs. Hollingsworth, Mrs. F. Clatworthy, Mrs. W. C. Dalzell and Mrs. James. Mrs. A. E. Pulling and Mrs. Richard Krueger were luncheon guests, leaving early to fulfill another engagement.

Benefit Card Party To Swell Welfare Fund Of Local PTA

One of the outstanding events of the year sponsored by the local Parent-Teacher association is the benefit card party which will be held in the school cafeteria on Friday evening, December 7. Proceeds from the affair will go to the welfare fund.

The following clubs and organizations have contributed money to purchase the prizes for the various games: Kiwanis, Woman's Club, the Firemen, Firemen's Auxiliary, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, St. Catherine's Guild, St. Rita's Altar Society, Masonic Lodge and Social Club of the Eastern Star.

Details of the event are being planned by Mrs. Al Myers, capable chairman of the Ways and Means committee, assisted by the P.T.A. board members. For reservations phone 108-2 or 305-1. Flo Tiller Moeller, Press Chairman.

SHUTINS REMEMBERED BY JUNIOR LEGION AUXILIARY
The bed-ridden folks of Sierra Madre were cheered yesterday by dinner trays and dainty favors distributed throughout the city by members of the local American Legion Junior Auxiliary.

OBITUARIES

B. BLAKE GREGORY

B. Blake Gregory, son of Albert Gregory, supervisor of the Hastings Ranch, passed away November 21 at his home in Manhattan Beach from pneumonia. Mr. Gregory was secretary of the California Fruit Growers' Association for the past 20 years and was prominent in fraternal organizations, having been a Past Master of Hollenbeck Lodge, No. 319, F.&A.M., and a member of Al Malaikah of the Shrine.

Mr. Gregory was born 57 years ago in Mount Ayer, Kansas, and came to California 50 years ago with his parents, who settled in Sierra Madre. He received his elementary schooling in Sierra Madre and is well-known to many in this city.

Masonic funeral rites were conducted at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Hollenbeck Masonic Temple, Los Angeles, with interment in the Sierra Madre Cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Jessie E. Gregory; his father, Albert Gregory, of this city; a sister, Mrs. L. W. Hill, of Pasadena; a nephew, Gregory C. Chase, of this city, and five nieces, Mrs. Ellen Renius, of Manhattan Beach; Mrs. Roger Bodine, Miss Virginia Hill and Miss Marjorie Hill, of Pasadena, and Mrs. Milton R. Jones, of Claremont.

HERBERT E. YARD

Funeral services were conducted at Sawtelle on Saturday for Herbert Ellsworth Yard, who passed away at a private sanitarium here Thursday night, November 22. Mr. Yard was brother of Mrs. H. A. Thew, of 70 Windsor Lane, and had been in Sierra Madre only a few weeks. He came to California two years ago. He has been 44 years ago in Creston, Iowa. Surviving are his father, Jacob Ward, of Creston, Iowa, and four sisters, Mrs. Thew, of this city; Mrs. Nora Cook, of Creston, Ia.; Miss Lydia Yard, of Des Moines, Ia., and Miss Ferné Yard, of Fort Collins, Colo.

Charity is destroying manhood. Nature intended we should not get something for nothing.

The 83rd birthday of Mrs. Helen Murphy was celebrated on Wednesday with a family dinner party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. O. Smith, 609 West Central avenue. Mrs. Murphy was the recipient of many lovely gifts and flowers and greetings were sent from all over the State.

Mrs. Boyd Keith entertained with a benefit bridge party in her home Monday afternoon. The purpose was to raise funds for the P.T.A. float in the Tournament of Roses. The winners of the table prizes were: contract, Mrs. H. B. Hersey, Mrs. Cy Young and Mrs. W. C. Dalzell; auction, Mrs. Warren Preston and Mrs. Nicolass. Door prizes, Mrs. Waverly Pratt and Mrs. Nicolass.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Elmer Weese, Mrs. Joseph L. Asbury and Mrs. Flo Moeller.

Honoring Mrs. A. L. Cobb, of Long Beach, a party was given by a group of Canyon Park ladies on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Stella Weaver. Those present included Mrs. J. F. Key, Mrs. George McQuestion, Mrs. A. L. Phelps, Mrs. Coombly, Mrs. Myrtle Bradford, Mrs. H. L. Heath, Mrs. Weaver and the honor guest, Mrs. Cobb.

Mrs. Ben Stinman and Mrs. A. H. Embree were hostesses at a dessert bridge given in honor of Mrs. Maud McClellan on Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Stinman, 439 Mariposa avenue. Mrs. McClellan leaves for her home in Iowa today. She has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hiram Embree for sometime. Amid autumn leaves and garden flowers, which profusely decorated the house, the following enjoyed a delightful afternoon: Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. H. Embree, Mrs. A. H. Embree, Miss Minnie Stinman, Mrs. Roy Pickett, Miss Lucile Johnson, Mrs. Minnie Miller Johnson, Mrs. C. N. Barker, Mrs. Colin Hill, Mrs. Thomas Buie and Mrs. Russell Lovejoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving N. Ward, of 109 East Grand View avenue, entertained with a supper party on Sunday evening. The dining table was artistically decorated with pink chrysanthemums and pink candles. Guests from Los Angeles were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heidrich and daughters, Constance and Beatrice; Earle George Adams, Miss Beatrice Ward, Murto McIvor and Murray McIvor.

—It provides easy, convenient terms, and by choosing now one can prevent the responsibility from falling upon those who are unfamiliar with business matters. The decision in this way rests with the family head.

—Many of our most prominent families living in the San Gabriel Valley have chosen this method for burial. And that which makes it most interesting is that the prices are so low, fitting in so conveniently with one's income. A great many families who have always felt that entombment was too expensive have been surprised to find our prices no higher than complete ground burial.

INCREASE IN SALES TAX TO BOOST UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF FUND IS PROPOSED

Plan Increase in Bank And Corporation Franchises
And State Income Levy

By Ralph H. Taylor
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

TAXATION, unemployment relief and "the liberalization of government" are rapidly taking shape as the primary issues of the 1935 State Legislature, which will convene at Sacramento in January.

And there is every indication that the forthcoming session of the lawmakers will go down in the record books as one of the most momentous legislative meetings in California history.

The swing toward a new liberalism and progressivism in government—in part a by-product of the depression and its problems, but in the main a counter-attack on radicalism—will have strong bearing on tax legislation as well as the unemployment program, according to present trends.

In addition to a powerful drive for a State income tax, designed to balance inequalities of the sales tax, there will undoubtedly be a profusion of proposals to

"up" the taxes on public utilities and other corporations.

Of even greater importance, so-called "Big Business," conscious of the need of fortifying its position to withstand radicalism and attacks on "the profit system," may accept a heavier share of the tax burden without protest, if the proposals are within reason.

A second boost of approximately $6,000,000 per biennium in the taxes of public utilities, which would fall most heavily on the power corporations and the telephone and telegraph companies, will undoubtedly be proposed. The 1933 Legislature boosted public utility taxes $6,000,000 and the second $6,000,000 increase, now contemplated, would accomplish the $12,000,000 increase recommended by the Tax Research Bureau two years ago.

The State income tax, it is estimated, would also raise approximately $12,000,000.

Bank and corporation franchise taxes are also scheduled for increase under some of the bills which have been prepared. Severance taxes on oil, minerals and timber are contemplated in other measures which some groups will sponsor.

Many other tax proposals are under consideration, although no definite program has been advanced as yet by representative groups.

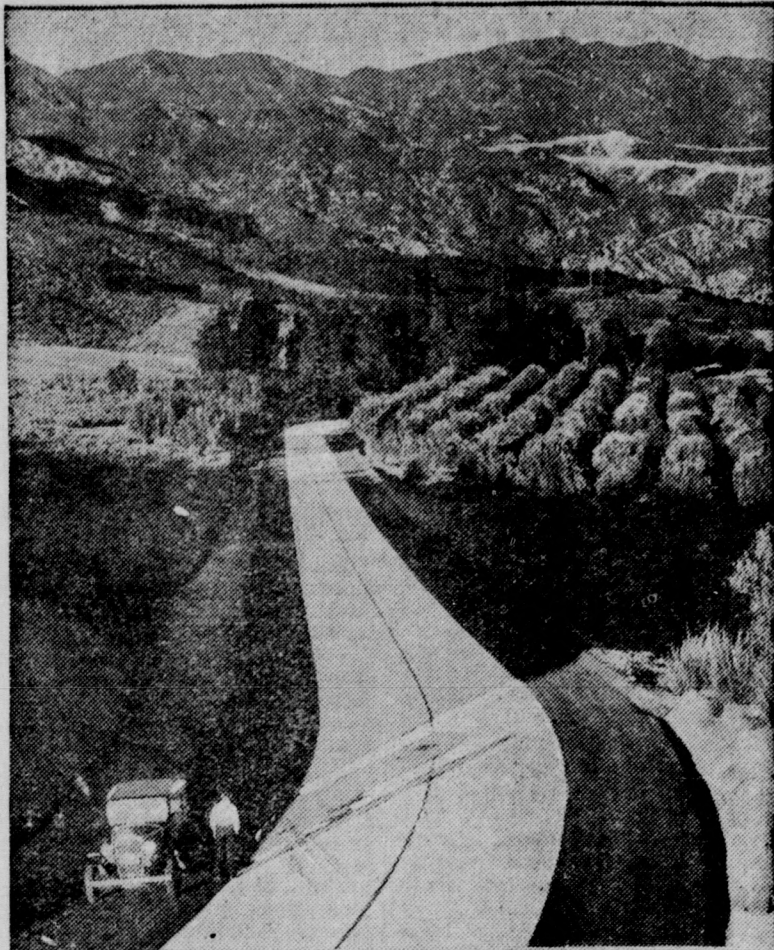

Postponement of the operation of the second part of the Riley-Stewart Tax Relief Plan, which calls for the return of utility properties to the counties for local tax purposes, has been mentioned in some quarters, due to the fact that this shift would reduce State revenues approximately $70,000,000 per biennium and probably necessitate a State ad valorem tax.

The ad valorem, or direct property tax, would stir up a hornet's nest of opposition, it is generally conceded, and many of the governmental leaders are determined to avoid such a levy at all costs.

In connection with unemployment relief and unemployment insurance proposals, there is also a possibility that the 2½ per cent State sales tax will be jumped to 3 per cent, with the extra tax being specifically set aside to care for relief costs, unemployment insurance and other welfare activities. Under the original act, the sales tax was intended to drop down to 2 per cent during the coming year, but in face of a $100,000,000 deficit there is every indication that the tax will be maintained at 2½ per cent at least, with the possibility that it may be increased.

But it is also fairly certain that if the sales levy is boosted the additional tax will be plainly "ear-marked" for the relief of the unemployed and the aged. If the Legislature follows the advice of Governor Merriam and

NEW ROAD LINK OPENED

Scene along the three and one-half mile state highway section extending from Newhall Tunnel Station to Olive View. This provides an alternate route between gateways from the north and Foothill Boulevard, and is a vital link in the distributor highway system long advocated by the Automobile Club of Southern California to facilitate through traffic around the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

Lieutenant-Governor Hatfield, however, it will sponsor a National old age pension system, rather than a State pension plan, as a protection against the invasion of unemployed from other sections.

In furtherance of the new "liberalization" movement, California will also take its place, in all probability, as one of the first States to petition for Congressional action establishing a 30-hour week in both private and public work.

A. L. A. Activities

By Helen Lovejoy

BERTHA IRVINE (membership chairman for A.L.A. unit 297) won first prize in a beauty contest held last meeting night. James Irvine won first for both the handsomest and wittiest man present.

Dorothy Shetler won first for the wittiest woman, Minnie Stinman and Collin Hill for the best liked.

Maybelle Barker and Ray Caukin took the honors as the best dressed persons at the meeting, and Grace Caukin and Roy Shetler the noisiest.

Roy Shetler and Helen Lovejoy were voted as having the most "it."

This contest followed the spaghetti dinner in the dug-out last Thursday night. Besides furnishing a lot of fun, the counting of votes proved to be a business in itself. We enjoyed this and are all glad to have this question of beauty settled once and for all. Hail the A. L. Auxiliary Beauty Queen, Bertha Irvine.

The 18th district is now third place in memberships in California. Pearl De Lapp urges chairmen to push forward a bit more rapidly, thanking them for their efforts so far.

There is known to be a family here badly in need of a gas heater. The father is employed part time by SERA, with a family of five, and one child in the hospital; the income is insufficient to furnish even the necessities. The lack of furniture can be endured, yet a stove seems indispensable. There must be one in town, if so, please call 303 and we will call for it.

The annual Child Welfare Conference was held at Patriotic Hall on Sunday.

Monday evening the party at San Fernando Hospital started at 6:30 with our Unit represented by Blanche Buie. Louise Roe Bobb baked a cake and sent it while prizes were also sent. Articles needed at once out there, are pint thermos bottles, bed jackets, and decks of cards.

Dolly Hill and Bertha Irvine are hostesses for the December 13 meeting in the dug-out.

Owing to the absence of the "villain," the Dramatic Club could not present the pantomime for our guests last Thursday night.

The Juniors will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the City Hall basement.

Local C.E. Societies Banquet Tonight

THE fifth annual fall banquet of the Christian Endeavor societies of Sierra Madre will be held tonight in Bethany Hall. A general banquet committee headed by Dorothy Moote and including Mary Sheriff, Shizuo Kunihiro, Sam Hohri, Mary Coit, Ed DeLong, Wilbur Anderson and Rev. Mr. Sheriff announces the selection of Irwin Moon as speaker, Merrill Jensen as toastmaster and short talks to be given by representatives of the three societies. Following the idea of radio, the Intermediates' speaker is to talk on loud speaker, Michi Nomura, of the Nipponese group, has the subject of ground and static is the topic of the young peoples' talker, June Lacey.

Sam Hohri was the delegate at the eighth annual convention of the Japanese Christian young peoples' church federation of Southern California held last weekend at the First Methodist church of Hollywood. Mitsuo, Shizuo and Matsuo Kunihiro went over Saturday night.

The three preys of the Intermediate, young people and Nipponese young people, Mary Coit, Mary Sheriff and Sam Hohri, respectively and the division social chairman and vice-president, Merrill Smith, and division pastoral counselor, Rev. S. R. Sheriff, attended the Pasadena division executive meeting held there Monday night.

Tuesday night, Sam Hohri went into the county C. E. headquarters to attend the committee meeting of the Tahquitz Pines club to plan for their next fellowship social to be held the latter part of this month. Ben Smith and C. J. List are the other two local members of this organization.

All officers and departmental directors of the Nisei society are requested to be present at the executive meeting of the group tomorrow, Saturday, night at 8 o'clock.

Last call for jams and jellies for the patients of the general hospital. These contributions should be sent into the county headquarters, 301 Columbia Building, by or on December 1.

By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener

PLAN NOW to put your garden in order for the winter and spring. If you have a hit and miss arrangement of your shrubbery and flowers, see if you can not rearrange them into some order now, putting the shrubbery into masses and the flowers into beds or borders, so that the whole will have a neat and artistic appearance. Shrubbery that has grown too old and woody should be replaced with new. Gaps in the garden where shrubs are missing should be filled in with new material.

Perennials that are now through blooming such as Chrysanthemums, Delphinium, Hollyhocks, etc., should be cut back and the plants taken up and set out in new locations. Cannas can be cut back now, dug up, divided and reset. Dalias should be cut down to the ground and either left in the ground or dug up and stored.

Cow or steer manure should be spread over the garden and worked into the soil. Citrus and avocado trees should be fertilized now.

Plant sweet-peas. Set out Petunia plants, also pansies, violas, calendulas, stocks, rust-proof snapdragons, strawflowers, and gailardias.

When roses have stopped blooming they can be pruned but usually this is not done until January. Use powdered sulphur on rose bushes to stop mildew.

High Steppers Of Local Horsemen To Prance In Parade

There is the possibility that several of the fine Palomino horses from local stables will be entered in the Tournament of Roses Parade, even though it appears very doubtful that Sierra Madre will be represented by a float.

Parade officials announce that special groups of the West's finest horses, with riders colorfully costumed in old California garb, will be placed in feature positions. The Spanish traditions will be upheld by silver mounted saddles and bridles, while sleekly polished trapping and trim habits will recall to memory the English period.

Tennis Players Called For Tourney

Emile Smith, local Tennis Club head, requests that all players wishing to qualify for the Sierra Madre tennis team get in touch with him at once. A return tournament with Bessie Park, in Pasadena, is scheduled for week after next, and everyone hoping to play at that time must secure his team position as far in advance of the matches as possible, Smith states.

Hunters Here Pass Up Duck This Season

Local Sportsmen Will Buy Stamps But Not Bother The Wild Fowl

Voluntarily pledging themselves to protect the State's wild duck supply by refraining from shooting the birds during the coming season, members of the local rifle club this week unanimously joined in a State-wide protest against the wanton destruction of waterfowl being carried on in California under present conditions and regulations.

"We have decided to purchase our special duck-stamps as usual," Fred LaLone, rifle club officer, and trapper said yesterday, "but we shall not kill any ducks. The proceeds from the duck stamps are necessary to the government in carrying out its plans for waterfowl conservation, so we plan to continue that support."

Speaking for local hunters, and explaining the position of all fair minded sportsmen, LaLone continued, "Unusually low water levels in the lakes in recent years have forced the ducks to land in large numbers on the few restricted water areas available. Such lakes are for the most part confined to privately owned lodge grounds, and in consequence have been converted into commercial slaughterhouses."

"Funds raised by sale of the stamps go toward replenishing the natural lakes usually frequented by the great body of hunters. Until such times as these lakes are restored, and the duck supply is built up, it is our duty to do all in our power to protect them."

"On August 20 last the Secretary of Agriculture set aside all waterfowl regulations for the coming duck season. Waterfowl hunters were surprised to say the least at a code so favorable to the rich sportsman, and so much to the detriment of the average duck Stamp buyer as well as to the failing duck supply."

"To the average sportsman the bag limit is too high, but quite the contrary to the mind of the hunting glutton, ensconced in his duck blind with a bottle of ale. The average wildfowl hunter who has a clear mind, and can see the future, will buy his duck stamp—and stay home during this duck season. I don't think this is asking too much of true sportsman. During wet years the lonely Mallard had his choice of landing on several large lakes, but this year he must land on one lake kept filled by duck clubs. He lands in a slaughter pen . . ."

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

IN ORDER to learn just how safe his home is from fire, "Shorty" Steinberger acting as "Boss" for the evening's practice, had the hose attached to the nearest fire plug and drove right to his own back door at Friday's practice drill. This required a lot of hose, but not a great deal of time. "Mill" drove the truck himself, and he must have had a bet with his wife as to the time, for the fellows on the rear end wondered if the truck would make the next turn.

It was with much regret that the firemen heard the news of the accident in which the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hibbs was severely injured. Two of our old members returned for a visit last Friday, Tom Henderson and Frank Hildebrandt. Tom gave reminiscences of the forming of the fire department, he had many newspaper clippings from the SIERRA MADRE NEWS that he has kept intact for these many years. Among the clippings was a picture of the firemen's quartette. The singers then were Henderson, Heasley, Richards and Karger, and what a lovely quartette that must have been.

The present fire department very much resembles the fire company formed by Benjamin Franklin many years ago. Then as now the men met for a sociable evening together, to talk on the subject of fires and how to conquer them. For being absent at the meetings, the members were fined just as we fine our members of today. Their fines, too, were applied to civic activities and from Franklin's description of his Union Fire Company, the interested members must have been very much concerned about the welfare of the community.

Although at this time of year, the firemen have a great deal to do with Christmas dances and other Christmas activities, the fire hazard and fire fighting is even in the meetings. Our first aim is to prevent fires and when one occurs, to get it out.

Vicious Dog Must Be Kept Chained By Owner Or Else

A vicious yellow collie, owned by Mrs. Vada Lass, of Victoria Lane, was "put on the spot" by Chief of Police McMillan this week when he notified the dog's owner to either dispose of the animal or in the future keep him chained in the yard.

Complaint was filed against the collie Saturday by A. C. Brown, of 159 East Laurel avenue, who stated that he and his son, David, had been attacked by the animal while walking on the Victoria Lane sidewalk, and that he and his other son, Timothy, had been molested in a similar manner in the past.

Can You Count Your Chickens Before They're Hatched?

Electric Incubation Has Proved the Successful Answer to Many a Poultryman's Problem

Electricity has taken much of the uncertainty out of chicken-farming. By assuring accurate temperatures, it meets the most important single requirement in egg-production.

Poultrymen are realizing that electric incubation and brooding are not only performed more economically with electricity, but the results are far more certain.

Edison Agricultural Advisory Experts are prepared to offer sound, practical advice to ranchers or farmers interested in knowing the facts about the cost and results obtainable when electric equipment is adopted.

If you are located on Edison lines, this service is rendered gratis.

Improvement Campaign Is Steaming Up

Chamber Of Commerce Committees Being Formed To Launch Drive Here

"Buy and Build for Reemployment," was the keynote of the Chamber of Commerce's appeal to the public of Sierra Madre this week. In pushing the campaign to stimulate interest here in the Federal Housing Administration's program, and in general freeing of idle dollars, the organization's executive committee appeals for the cooperation of every homeowner.

"If the government's plan to further recovery through individual initiative is to succeed, then the individual must do his part," John S. Billheimer, president of the local Chamber told the Chamber's committee. "Everyone must realize that the future of the country at large is dependent on the actions of just such small communities as Sierra Madre—and that Sierra Madre can do no more than the individual residents do for themselves."

"President Roosevelt has already called on the common citizen to join with the big industries and business in stimulating recovery efforts, and to aid this average man the administration has created the FHA. This bureau, as you know, now guarantees money on small loans for home repair and construction and modernization work and the Sierra Madre Savings Bank is now ready to advance such loans at the low rate of interest fixed by the government. Local merchants have the best buys in many years right now, and there could be no better time to build, remodel and repair," he concluded.

The complete list of committees to carry on the greatly needed improvement campaign here will not be completed for some days, Mr. Billheimer said.

It became known yesterday that Sierra Madre and Monrovia have been placed in the same district, and SERA field workers to canvas the city with the idea of interesting property owners in FHA loans must be secured through district headquarters. Mr. Billheimer was assured, however, that such field men will gladly be furnished to this city as soon as technical details are arranged by officials in the Monrovia office.

In the meantime FHA loans in other California towns are being negotiated in large numbers, and in the Western region more than $4,000,000 in new money has been put into circulation through modernization loans since the National Housing Act was instituted, according to Deputy Regional Director Austin L. Black.

United we boost, divided we bust.

BRINGING BACK THE WALTZ

MAURICE CHEVALIER and JEANETTE MacDonald dancing the famous "Merry Widow Waltz". The diagrams on each side show the "One two three" step of the dance. Right foot steps forward (1) left forward and sideways (2) and right then moves parallel to it (3). The reverse (at right) is the same step backward.

THE dreamy movements of the Merry Widow Waltz are returning to fashionable ballrooms, and Sierra Madre young folks are learning for the first time how delightful an "old fashioned" dance can be. Probably the chief reason for the sudden veering from acrobatic foxtrots and rumbas to the staid dance of former days is the motion picture influence, according to Albertina Rasch, well known movie dance director.

"Basically," she says, "it is a one-two-three step, the dancers circling and reversing. As done in the picture, while circling, the woman now and then whirled, pivoting under the hand of the man, holding her aloft. They sometimes face each other, sometimes dance side by side, moving backward and forward. Ingenuity can devise many such evolutions.

"The step itself is simple—the right foot moves forward for one step, the left forward and sideways for the second step, and the third step brings the feet together. The reverse is the same system—left foot backward, right backward and to the side, then feet are brought together.

"The waltzes of Lehar, Strauss and other Viennese composers, and many very fine modern waltzes can be used for music."

During the normal daylight hours of 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. 342,610 accidents resulted in 16,230 deaths. The rate of death per accident was 43.5 per cent worse during the hours of darkness than during the hours of daylight. Automobile accidents during the hours of darkness are more serious in their consequences than those of daytime occurrence because cars at night are being driven too fast for the existing range of visibility afforded by head lamps.

A mechanical searching machine now in use at the Federal Identification Bureau at Washington, D.C., solves the problem offered by the increasingly bulky fingerprint files used by the Department of Justice. Despite the fact that there are now more than 4,000,000 separate cards on file at the Washington bureau, by use of the mechanical searching a card can be classified in a few minutes.

Mountain lions, attracted by the presence of an unusual number of deer in the recreation camps of the Crystal Lake area, are killing many of the latter, and Larue Chappelle, captain of patrol of the State fish and game commission, is on the ground with hunters in an attempt to rid the area of the predatory lions. The unprecedented heavy crop of acorns has attracted so many deer that herds of twenty or more are frequently seen. They are so tame that many come to the very doors of the cabins.

The Attorney General of New York has decided that under the laws of the state, anyone who bet a box of cigars, a plug hat, $5 or even a wheelbarrow ride down Broadway on the recent election, committed a crime punishable by five years in prison. In addition the law disfranchises those who violate it, and nullifies their vote. Pennsylvania has an almost identical law.

The Santa Fe railroad announced this week that it had contracted for the expenditure of $1,800,000 for air conditioning its transcontinental passenger equipment and that most of its cars will be air conditioned before the summer excursion season opens in 1935.

Californians spend more money than the average in the several states. The count of retail dollars in 1930 showed that Pacific coast residents spent more than $540 in retail purchases, compared with an average expenditure of only $400.

That the Pacific states are highly newspaper-conscious is said to be revealed by studies proving that total newspaper circulation is higher in the west in ratio to the number of consumers. Pacific coast newspaper circulation is 360 in each 1,000 of population as compared with a national ratio of only 290 copies for every 1,000 persons.

Sport Slants

By John Copeland

IN CASE Washington U. suffers the same fate as Oregon, in tomorrow's game, it should be very apparent that maybe Troy isn't such a sucker as has been supposed—and that California teams on the whole can be beaten by each other and still remain on the top of the heap in their relationship to the great N.W., Midwest, East, South, etc.

Also we'd like to reiterate that Arleigh Williams is a boy for anybody's All-American backfield. He had to be plenty good to get such swell punts away with an end like Topping charging in on him. And still better to get himself away through the Stanford line.

It's not in the cards (no puns today, plis) for such to be, and Alabama vs. Stanford will pack 'em in okay, but wouldn't some of these battles be toothsome morsels for rabid fans—California vs. Navy... UCLA vs. Colgate... USC vs. Minnesota (No, we're not joking)... St. Mary's or Santa Clara vs. L.S.U. That latter we stuck in for the satisfaction of contemplating Hoey's crimson complexion at the probable devastating results.

Many some day in Valhalla the press association sport boys will consider background, psychological angles and latent possibilities of individuals and teams, in making odds. By the questionable method of checking comparative scores, California was put on the short end of 5-1 odds last week, and given 13 points with even money. That must have made a lot of dough for a number of Berkeley folks.

MOUNTAINS—Bill Wark, known now in wrassling circles as Michael Wark, got the break of appearing in a prelude on the same card with Man Mountain Dean in Pismo Beach Monday night. This gave Bill an idea.

Said idea sounds pretty smart, and should pay dividends if handled properly. Hereafter, in towns where he is not too well known as "Michael," as soon as he has grown the necessary face forestry, Bill is going to be tagged as "The Midget Man Mountain."

TWEET—Christmas day a natural tie-in with the race meet opening will be staged in Arcadia. Namely, a game bird show, at which most every type and breed of game fowl will be on hand. Chinese pheasants, wild pigeons, valley and desert quail; white, blue and green peacocks, Lady Amhursts, ring necked and Elliott pheasants, Mallard ducks, Bob Whites, and innumerable other birds are to be included.

STIRRUP CHATTER—We never knew these things before, but maybe you did... Horses, alack, all have birthdays on January 1, regardless of when they were born. A nag born December 31 is a year old next day, officially... Tick On was born brown, now is glossy black... Boy, if Damon Runyon comes out to cover the races we're going to have some mighty swell material in this column!

Mile after mile of electric cables are being laid by Santa Anita workmen for the big mechanical bookmaker, called the Totalisator. Accurate to the fraction of a cent, the machine pari-mutuel bets and gives full information to the public. Experienced clerks are required in its operation.

Booths with windows for straight, place and show wagers, will be located at various accessible spots on the grounds. Tickets will range from $2 to $100. You call your horse by number from the program, a clerk presses a button on keyboard similar to a typewriter, and the "tote" prints the ticket on a blank slip of paper and at the same time the information is flashed on five bulletin boards. Thus the public at all times knows of all amounts being wagered, the up to the minute odds. Which odds, of course, are made by the public.

The calculator adds, subtracts, multiplies—does everything but tell you how to win. As soon as that latter technicality is looked after, we'll plank down our first racing bet.

Hasta la vista.

bor will be open daily to California-Pacific International Exposition visitors.

Another indication of better times is an increased demand this year on the part of agents of Santa Claus for the purchase of Christmas trees from the National forests of California. Three times the available stock has been applied for, according to T. D. Woodbury, assistant regional forester in charge of timber sales. Available stock is trees cut from the crowded groves of young growth for the purpose of giving light and ground space to the remaining stand left to grow into a future forest.

Noted Musicians Will Contribute To Program Of Children's Dramatic Guild

Little Margarette Adwell received honors for an original playlet which she presented at last week's meeting of the Children's Drama Guild. She was supported by Mary Moeller, Patsy Moeller and Betty Lou Lacy. Mary was awarded honors for the best presentation.

Several child artists will assist the Guild at the benefit which will be given tomorrow evening at the home of the director, Herbert Riley of Glendale, internationally recognized cellist, will present a trio in two numbers: 'Au Bord D'un Ruisseau,' by Boisdereffere, and 'Forget-Me-Not,' by Macbeth. The trio is composed of Eva Pellegrini, piano; Blain Hancock, violin, and Virginia Riley, cello. Mr. Riley has played in the New York, Philadelphia, and Los Angeles Symphony orchestras.

Dolores Herman and Norman, children of the talented Bartold family, also members of the Guild, will contribute to the musical part of the program.

Mrs. Harold Scott, of Monrovia, will present her two small children, Richard and Harriet in a vocal duet. Mr. Scott is Director of Music in the Monrovia schools and leader of the Monrovia Symphony orchestra. The program will open with a short sketch entitled 'The Wishing Ring,' in which Mrs. Eakman will play the part of the grandmother; Dodo Hawley-Walker, Daphene, the grandchild; Wilma Smith, Prudence, another grandchild, and Grace Jensen, the Spirit within the Book.

The following children will give readings: Betty Jean Askew, George Tyree, Phillis Dodson, Alberta Myers, Marilyn Mid-

Lloyd, Bruce Newberry, Patsy Moeller, Mary Moeller, Betty Spinks, Dale Spinks, Elizabeth Jackson, Dolores Bartold, Herman Bartold, Betty Lou Lacy, Mary Lou Lovejoy, Norma Hogan, Sue Adwell, Irene Lloyd, Wilma Smith, Donna Jean Perry and Billy van Meter. Marjorie Royce will read her Thanksgiving poem which was published recently in THE NEWS. Hostesses for the evening will be Sue Adwell, Norma Hogan and Marjorie Royce.

Woman's Club Notes

WHILE the brilliant results of last week's bazaar are fresh in the minds of every club woman and her guest, the necessity for putting that event in the background becomes imperative in the busy succession of new activities.

No one can forget, however, the outstanding phases that marked that day as another milestone in the progress of our club's worthwhile affairs; namely, the fellowship of the women, their patience, good humor, and ability to carry their work to its highest fruition.

And, above all, the co-operation and graceful aid of that charming contingent, those Juniors, whose deft fingers and merry countenances lent so much to the dinner hour.

Let it be known that a prize was offered to the Junior who sold the most tickets to the dinner. Miss Cynthia Hull happened to extract more half dollars from hungry diners-out than the rest of the bivy.

Those who gave their valuable assistance were: Miss Cricket Calkin, Ruth Klunk, Merna Cant, Jane Holland, Ellen Wolfe, of Aladena, Barbara Hollingsworth, Marvin Philipps, Genelle Paschall and Miss Frances Brain, the president.

The highlight of the morning was the reading of Mrs. Grace V. Hudson's bulletin. Mrs. Pulling drew attention to the President's Council which occurs on December 5th in the Civic Auditorium in Pasadena. The theme this year for the series of councils forms the word, "Map," which spells out "Money, Alcohol and Peace."

Mrs. John C. Urquhart, past District and State President, will give an address entitled, "Prisoners of Hope." Dr. Pottinger will speak in addition to a talk on "The Alco-Crime Prevention Bill," given by another speaker.

Everyone is urged to attend this conference inasmuch as it is only a fifteen minute ride from home.

There is going to be a Legislation Conference at the Transportation Building, 7th and Los Angeles streets on December 10th at 10 a.m. Attorney O. L. Witt will speak on "The Need for Advanced Education on Proposed Legislation."

Dr. Owen C. Coy, Professor of History at U.S.C., has chosen as his subject for that day, "Some of the State Problems in Southern California."

The Music Conference on December 20th promises to be another delightful event with Miss Agnes Real discussing "The Passion Play."

Now hear ye! hear ye! hear ye! news of an old fashioned Xmas, and I mean "old fashioned" party is about to be given out. Get those dresses of another day out of the moth balls and lavender, for you will need them on the night of the 29th of December at eight bells. There may be some difficulty in getting this apparel to fit exactly; but, you know, there is always the "modern" safety-pin!

Don't forget to hunt up those "Mae West" plumes, now, and the date, again for this gay '90's shindig is December 29th. Final news of the bazaar returns is not available at this writing, except to say that Mrs. W. E. Farman won a prize for her family, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge and family, and Mrs. Hortense Hill, of Sierra Madre.

Louis M. Jasper, of Los Angeles, who resided in Sierra Madre for over a year with the Dr. George W. Groth and Mrs. Pearl Smith families, returned on Wednesday and is residing at the Hotel Mountain View. He plans to be here for a year or so.

A family dinner party was enjoyed on Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Moote, 689 West Central avenue. Miss Kathleen Moote came home from the University of California at Los Angeles to be with her family for the holiday, while Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Graves, Van Nuys, parents of Mrs. Moote, enjoyed the day of Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Lela Roulette, of 377 Sycamore Place, was guest of out-of-town friends Thanksgiving Day.

Our
'Memorial Plan'

Makes it easy to own a crypt in Mountain View
Mausoleum.

—It provides easy, convenient terms, and by choosing now one can prevent the responsibility from falling upon those who are unfamiliar with business matters. The decision in this way rests with the family head.

—Many of our most prominent families living in the San Gabriel Valley have chosen this method for burial. And that which makes it most interesting is that the prices are so low, fitting in so conveniently with one's income. A great many families who have always felt that entombment was too expensive have been surprised to find our prices no higher than complete ground burial.

—A letter or phone call will bring complete details without any obligation whatsoever.
